We have been having a teachers' training school at our church this past week. It has been the greatest that we have ever had. There has been nearly a hundred enrolled in the sessions of the classes, and we have been having truly wonderful times in the classes. Beginning Monday, Sept. 18, we are going to start a permanent teachers' training course. We will teach several books at convenient hours to accommodate everybody. Enroll Sunday for one of these classes. Call 1188 for further information.
Our association meets Tuesday, Sept. 17, at Orange. There will be a called business meeting of the church Sunday night to pass on our letter to the association. We have had the greatest report we have ever had to carry to the meeting this year. There has been nearly 300 added to the church during the past year. About $42,000 in actual cash has been raised by this church during the past year. Every department of the church has grown and prospered, and we are praising God for the blessing He has poured out upon us.
There will be an unusual wedding at the church Sunday morning.

PARIS TO HAVE NEW BRIDGE OVER THE SEINE
PARIS, Sept. 15.—Construction work, which was recognized as a public utility in 1896 by Royal Napoleonic decree, is about to be similarly recognized by the Republic of France and will be immediately carried out.
It will mean the spanning of the Seine by yet another bridge, making twenty-three over this river in its course through Paris. By means of this bridge the populous and artistic district of Montmartre will be connected with an equally populous district, joining the rue de Rennes with the rue Dufrenoy.

KREISLER RECOVERS FROM LOSS OF TOE
BERLIN, Sept. 15.—Fritz Kreisler is recovering here from the loss of his great toe as a result of his short cut. He joined the colors in 1914 as a reserve officer, but had trained troops only a few days when the stock of a gun was blown off and hit his toe. Partly maimed, he went to America, but returned home when the United States entered the war. He will tour America again in January.

There were 88 names mentioned by the readers.

FISH FORCE PASSAGEWAY UNDER PICCADILLY SHOW
LONDON, Sept. 15.—Known to millions of Londoners who pass Piccadilly Circus daily there has been an aquarium under this famous spot. Schools of fish lately have been making their way through an underpass, channel from the Serpentine in Hyde Park to the lake in St. James' Park. The chief attraction is the "cable" back, a red animal which weak, known among the other fish, but these "cable" have been unable to pass the vent large school of perch and other fish from using the same underpass passage to St. James' Park.

CASH SCARCE SO TAX GATHERER TAXES FOOD
BERLIN, Sept. 15.—The most popular tax collector in Germany is an official in a village near Berlin. The secret of his fame is that he pays the money himself.
Knowing it is useless to ask the villagers for actual cash, he collects eggs here, butter there and a peck of potatoes in another place, and gives the taxpayer a receipt in full. Sales produce more than enough to repay the collector, so everybody is pleased.

BICYCLING DESPERADO TERRORIZED VILLAGE

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—A bicycling desperado has the village of Hombach in Silesia, under such a spell that the town is closed up at 6 o'clock every evening, reopening its doors only at 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning.
Jesse, whose other name is Heinrich Kolodinski, 25, and his prospective mother-in-law, shot her and her daughter to wed another, Koenig, defying the police. Kolodinski rides his bicycle through the streets, brandishing a large pistol and shouting for the father of the girl, her brother, and all her friends. So thoroughly has the young man terrorized the villagers that they turn out the lights and sound a siren, warning everybody to get to bed before the peddling desperado arrives.

MONTH TRIAL OF AIR MAIL IS SCHEDULED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Plans for a test lasting probably a month to determine the feasibility of permanent establishment of a twenty-four hour coast to coast air mail service are under consideration by post office department officials.

Postmaster-General New said to say the possibility of such service had been demonstrated in the recent experiment, but that before recommendation were made by the post office department to congress it vitally of one month should be made to ascertain whether there was sufficient demand for such service. He indicated that the month's test would be made before bad weather sets in this fall.

BEAR SKELETON IN WARD CLOSET

Blackmail Secret Is To Be Bared in Millionaire's Trial

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The millionaire Ward family skeleton—closeted secretly during the previous investigations into the murder of Clarence Peters—will be dangled before a jury in the special supreme court here, the prosecution announced today.
The blackmail secret, the whys and wherefores of defendant Walter S. Ward's mysterious disappearance for weeks at a time and certain alleged escapades in his private Broadway apartment, will be presented fully.

Ten of the twelve jurors who are to determine Ward's fate on a murder charge already have been selected.

A new panel of 75 gentlemen has been drawn and on Monday the final two will be chosen.

SHIPPERS AWAIT ATTORNEY EDICT

To Hand Down Decision on Shipping Board Cases

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Private shipping interests here, combating the shipping board's plan of government operation, have decided to rest on their arms until after the attorney general rules against the scheme for operating the government fleet through subsidiary corporations or unless President Coolidge vetoes the plan, further protest would be futile. They expect more conference at their developments any reason to believe the board will modify its position.
A well defined feeling among members of both the operators and the owners' associations is that the commission had made up their minds regarding their policy before the last conference was held. In spite of the shipping board that they were "open to conviction," owners and operators say they received a chilly reception and had reason to believe that no amount of argument could have had any effect.

A decision of opinion is said to exist among officials of the department of justice. Some officials anticipate a number of legal complications, it is said. Among them is the suggestion that state taxes might be assessed against government property in the event government ships were operated under state corporations. The plan might develop conflict between state and federal powers relative to the control of the corporations.

FROST KING TO GIVE WAY WARMER FALL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The cold wave which damaged crops, brought winter's first snows to many cities, prevented baseball games and set people shivering, may linger in some sections of the country a little longer, but it will be succeeded in most places by warmer weather with in 24 hours, the weather bureau forecasts today.

THAMES SUPPLIES MOST OF WATER TO LONDON
LONDON, Sept. 15.—Although it can get all the liquor it wants London consumes 250,000,000 gallons of water a day. A plant of 43,000 horsepower is required to pump this daily river through 6,577 miles of pipes. The Thames supplies 150,000,000 gallons a day and the River Lee another 30,000,000.

WIDOW-ROBBER IS ARRESTED

Returns to Scenes of Crime After Seventeen Years

PRAGUE, Sept. 15.—Marie Wimmer, an American woman, 52 years old, was arrested upon her return to Prague, near here, after an absence of 17 years.
As a dutiful widow of 35 Marie relieved sundry of her admirers of their watches, bank books and cash, but eluded the police and fled to America. There she became naturalized and remained until recently when she decided she could visit her birthplace, which as it was no longer in Austria, she believed would be safe. Besides in America she had heard about statutes of limitations, and had given up her capricious ways.

AVIATOR KILLED

Flying Major Unable to Get Clear With Parachute

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Major H. L. Napier, flying surgeon at McCook Field, was killed today when his plane crashed from an altitude of 1500 feet. A wing of the plane broke, causing the accident. Napier tried to leave the plane in a parachute when the wing broke but was unable to get clear.

REV. RIDEOUT TO TAKE PASTORATE SEPT. 29

Rev. John C. Rideout, of Kines, Iowa, who has accepted a call to the pastorate of St. George's Episcopal church, of this city, will arrive in Port Arthur about Sept. 29 to assume his new duties, according to word received by officers in the church here.
After visiting Port Arthur several weeks ago, Rev. Rideout practically assured the congregation of St. George's that he would accept the call to this parish, and a day or two ago sent word that he will arrive in Port Arthur the latter part of the month to become rector of St. George's.

11 GENERAL ACTS
NOW EFFECTIVE

One Limits Legislator Election Expense to $1

Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—The law requiring rendition of all new-chumbe mounds for taxation purposes, passed at the third called session of the legislature last June became effective Thursday, along with ten other general laws of that session.

One of the measures makes possession of narcotics for sale unlawful, and provides a felony penalty for carrying a pistol while violating the narcotic law. Other measures effective Thursday are:

Revision of salaries of city and corporation judges, city attorneys and city auditors in certain counties. Limiting election expense fund for candidates to legislature and senate at $1, holding these candidates for district offices, and limiting cost to candidates for United States senate and congress at $100, to be levied by the state executive committee of a political party, and not by the county executive committee.

Method for county officers to follow in making remittances to the state treasury.

Occupation tax on theatrical, dramatic and musical comedy shows.

Credits to tax collectors for report on all uncollected taxes.

Authority for dissolution of consolidated school districts by majority vote.

Providing five-year closed season on antelope, wood duck, prairie chicken and woodcock.

Amending delinquent tax law.

6 Pay Penalty in 26
London Murder Cases

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Murder is thirteen times as popular in New York as in London.

In 1921 the ratio of murders to the total population of the American city was 6.2 for every 100,000.

That means that approximately 350 murders are committed in the New York police area during an average year.

In his annual report for 1922, Sir William Horwood, London's commissioner of police, lists the twenty-six murders committed among the seven millions of persons who live in the seven hundred square miles of territory of the London police area.

In thirteen cases the murderer committed suicide.

Fifteen arrests were made in connection with the remaining thirteen murders. Thirteen persons were committed to prison.

Two were committed to hospitals for the criminally insane.

In three cases there were two prisoners and in a single instance one prisoner was charged with two murders.

"An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth" is the motto of the London police and his chief.

SUTHERLAND RETURNS FROM BILOXI, MISS.

L. E. Sutherland, steward on the United States coast and geodetic survey steamer, returned from Biloxi, Miss., today from a vacation with relatives.

Mr. Sutherland, who is now in Biloxi, will join his husband in Port Arthur about Nov. 1 and will spend the winter in this city.

FIVE WOMEN, EVADING
FUR COAT DUTY, FINED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Five women, two of whom said they were Folies girls, and a third the wife of a bank official of Aberdeen, S. D., were assessed fines aggregating $2,500 at the customs house for bringing on the steamer Olympia five fur coats without declaring them or paying duty.

Mrs. Frank B. Cannon, wife of a banker of the South Dakota town, was required to pay double value on a fur coat into which she was charged with sewing a label to give the impression that the coat had been purchased in Germany.

Miss Jean Russell and Miss Edith Livingston, who said they were Folies girls, were each required to pay $200 on two mink coats. The fine represented the value of the coat, plus the duty.

BROKEN-BACKED MAN
AWARDED $150 A WEEK

MIDDLETOWN, Sept. 15.—Ben Brown of Middletown, who is in the Middletown Sanitarium with a broken back, today received an award of $150 a week for life against an insurance company from Referee B. W. Nye of the Compensation commission, in session at Goshen.

Last November as the moon shone bright a workman carrying a plank let it drop, supposedly on a scaffold, but it fell on the ground, striking Brown.

BLUE REPELS FLIES

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Blue walls repel flies, according to the Scotchworth Certified Dairy Farm. The dairy has been striving to obtain pure milk. Experiments with coloring matter proved that flies are less likely to come to rest on a blue surface than any other. After painting the walls blue and finding the scheme successful the dairy has installed blue glass in all its windows.

7-OZ. BOTTLES
FOR 8-OZ. PAY

State Department to War on Short Measure Dairies

Special to The News.
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 15.—Are you getting seven ounces of milk or cream when you pay for eight ounces? Markets Commissioner C. E. Baughman has announced he has just filed 19 charges in San Antonio, alleging that dairies and creameries are using a seven-ounce bottle which is used for marketing a milk drink and substituting these bottles for the regular eight-ounce milk bottle in delivery of milk or cream.

A statewide investigation will be made, under authority of the not commissioner law, Commissioner Baughman announced.

A milk drink is being retailed at many places in the state in a seven-ounce bottle similar to the small milk bottles, he said. These when used to market the prepared drink are properly labeled, and are used legally, he said. The violation he charges comes from the use by dairies of the same bottles, after the labels have been washed off, and substitution for the eight-ounce bottle.

Charges will be filed in other cities where the same practice is detected, Commissioner Baughman announced.

Society Bud Back to Russia for the Thrill

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Sonia Pavlovskaya, daughter of a Russian prince and a French noblewoman, has gone back to soviet Russia to enjoy what she calls the thrill of suffering, which is lacking in the effete civilization of western Europe.

Sonia's father was killed in the Bolshevik revolution. Her mother escaped to France and remarried. Sonia was thrown in jail. Her mother's family, influential in government circles, got the French foreign office to intercede for permission for the young girl to leave Russia. The government of Lenin and Trotsky consented and Sonia joined her mother in Biarritz. There she led the life of a society girl, but found it humdrum. One morning she was missing. A note found in her bedroom explained: "I was very unhappy sometimes in Russia," she wrote, "but after all, it is better than the life I am leading here. There is a thrill in suffering which I miss in France. I am back and find it."

Sonia took a couple of thousand francs to pay for the journey to Moscow. She left behind a diamond bracelet, which she said she had no further use for and begged her mother to take it in exchange for the money.

Is Decided by Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 15. A conference called by the Missouri Federation of Labor here Sept. 16 will draw up a workmen's compensation law to be submitted to the people of Missouri under the initiative at the next general election.

Missouri is one of the six states in the union now without a workmen's compensation law, and the only northern industrial state without one.

Notices for the meeting, and the conference was for the purpose of drafting a measure that would satisfy organized labor. The legislatures of 1919 and 1921 passed compensation laws which were defeated under the referendum because certain factions of labor thought the compensation was inadequate.

Advitation for a compensation act has been under way in Missouri for the last nine years.

UNSYMPATHETIC HUBBY
FINDS WIFE A SUICIDE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—Frank Bohn came home from work Saturday night, tired, and told his wife, Minnie, that he didn't want to hear about her troubles with the neighbors. Sunday she attempted to tell him about them again and he left the house. When Bohn returned 20 minutes later he found his wife's body hanging from a rope tied to a transom.

Remove Sunk Dredge

Removal of a ship's anchor and chain from the Neches river by government engineers is reported here today in marine circles. It is believed that the German steamship Deutschland struck this anchor recently, resulting in a large hole being torn in the forward part of her hull, which caused number 1 hold of the vessel to fill with water. The Deutschland is now in Beaumont.

Dempsy of Mighty Meets Abrupt End on Resin Mats

Remnants of Cave Days Crumble As "Champion of Champions" Slugs Firpo To Floor Seven Times in Vicious Battle

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Beaten to the floor nine times, after he had twice downed the world's champion and once knocked him out of the ring, Luis Angel Firpo, the wild bull of the ring, was counted out in the second round of the most vicious and most savagely fought heavyweight championship fight of all time, at the Polo Grounds last night.

Between 65,000 and 100,000 spectators saw the heavyweight champion topple three times from his feet, and he was counted out on the resin mats. He was knocked out of the ring by Jack Dempsey, who was counted out in the second round of the most vicious and most savagely fought heavyweight championship fight of all time, at the Polo Grounds last night.

FIRPO ONE BLOW LATE, SAYS PUG

McAuliffe Satisfied the Bull Should Have Won

By JACK MAULIFFE, Retired Undeclared Lightweight Champion

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Right off the bat I might admit that I turned out to be wrong in picking Luis Firpo to win the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey.

I was wrong, however, by just one punch and I came on close to being right that I think my opinion expressed before the fight was vindicated.

Dempsy was saved by what looked to have been one of the worst breaks against him. Had he not been knocked clear out of the ring into the press box in the first round I am sure he would have been knocked out.

He was helpless on the ropes with his guard down and his knees sagging. He stepped forward and Firpo caught him coming in with a lashing right to the jaw.

The blow carried him bodily through the ropes. Had he remained in the ring, Firpo surely would have finished him. Dempsy had a chance to survive while he was being pushed back into the ring and if he had been forced to do his reviving inside the ropes he would not have survived.

It gave me satisfaction to see my judgment of Firpo proven. He is a great fighter with a great fighting heart and it was only his lack of experience that caused him to drop the crown when he had it three times right in his hands.

It is my opinion that Firpo would have won if he had behind him any good American seconds who could have advised what to do. They did not know what to tell him and he hasn't had enough experience to act by himself.

Firpo acted just like a veteran, he has been looking for it. He fought all the time. He came up fighting instead of covering up like a lot of the modern cake-eaters do. He fought bravely at the dictation of one of the greatest fighting hearts I have ever seen.

GOLFERS DRIVE OFF IN MEET

Chicago Scene of Amateur Tourney

FLORHAM PARK, N. J., Sept. 15.—The first pair of entries in the National Amateur golf tournament drove off at 8:30 a. m. today.

Dr. A. F. Hanning, Chicago, and P. Campbell, Toledo, Ohio, drew first position in the qualifying round and teed off on schedule time. Other pairings followed throughout the morning at five minute intervals.

The course was hard and fast, two days of clear cold weather having taken the spongy out of the greens, but heavy morning dew was still on the grass and a few long, low, making it almost impossible to see the first hole, 519 feet from the tee.

The tournament—blue ribbon event of the golf world—draw 100 entries.

Tennis Sharks Push Off In Opening Rounds of City Tennis Tournament

By BILL ARCHER

WITH the pick of Port Arthur tennis sharks lined up in the running, 24 entrants in the City Tennis Tournament out after the silver loving cup offered by W. P. McFarland, jeweler, for victor in the singles event for men, were scheduled to appear on the Country Club clay courts this afternoon at 2 o'clock to start the first rounds of play in the meet.

Several of the players, who were paired off Friday, announced "ready" this morning, and indicated they are overly anxious for the meet to start. The indications are at the present time that with fair weather prevailing, the first rounds will require the balance of next week for completion, during which time officials in charge of the matches hope to pick victors for the second rounds. Under the rules which will govern the play, the victor in each pair must be chosen on the best two of three games. Byes will probably develop in the second and third rounds, and some players may default as the tourney progresses, but it is the hope of those in charge that all contestants will turn out and do their best to win.

Several matches will be started this afternoon, and it is probable that by sunset, some defeats and victories will have been chalked-up on the record slate.

Jack Neely, professional, under whose direction the tournament will be played at the Country Club, will be on the grounds this afternoon ready for the opening number. He will have supervision of the records, and no game that is not supervised by him will be counted as official. All games to count in the tournament must be played on the Country Club clay courts; if they are played elsewhere, they will not count in the tournament.

There is no doubt but that the such an occurrence is practically unavoidable. However, players listed in the first rounds must bear with the officials, arrange with their respective opponents as soon as possible for a meeting before next Saturday, and play off the first three games. It has been impossible to designate certain dates for certain players to appear due to the length of the entry list in the first round.

Following the first rounds of play, the pairs of players will be given designated dates to appear on the courts, and the meet will be rushed through to its finish.

Tomorrow will probably find every entry in the running out at the Country Club; and it will be a good day to get acquainted with your opponent.

Get out on the courts before next Saturday, players, and turn in your card to Professor Neely.

LANDRY, BRUNT MEET GARRETT

Box at Shrine Circus Tonight At 8

Scheduled as one of the principal attractions of the main tent in the final night of the Shrine Circus here, Joe Garrett, local pug of the junior light-heavyweight class, will appear at 8 o'clock on the show grounds to battle two speedy boxers.

Garrett has been secured by the Shrine Circus powers to be seen four fast rounds with Tough Landry, who appeared in Lake Charles last night, and then to cliff off four speedy rounds with Young Brunt from Lake Charles.

Brunt is a swift pumber in ring animals of this section, and won a victory over Landry last evening in the Lake Charles arena before a large crowd. Landry says he is tough and has lots of pep and "stuff."

Garrett's prowess as a scrapper is well known here; he has been in seclusion for some time, but has never given up his training. The force of his punches is feared here, the Port Arthur has been clipping off a fast clip, preparing for a return to the ring game, and his appearance here tonight will be the first exhibition he has appeared on in some time.

No extra admission will be charged for the attraction in the main tent. The fight will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

PRIZE BABY OFFERED IS DISCOVERED A PIG

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The storm of indignation raised here last week when a baby was offered as a prize to the one guessing nearest the attendance at the Kingston exposition was swept away in a gale of laughter when the chamber of commerce produced the "baby," a young pig.

The offer had caused citizens to flood the editorial desks of the local newspapers with letters of protest. The writers of the epistles had not read the offer carefully and jumped to the conclusion that there is only one kind of a baby.

PARIS MOULIN ROUGE WILL BE RE-OPENED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Moulin Rouge of Paris, internationally famous before the war as the center of night life in the Montmartre section of the French capital, will be reconstructed and reopened in October, according to a statement by the French government.

The famous show place, which was destroyed by fire in 1915 and reopened last year as a dance hall, will be rebuilt to house five theatres.

Aftermath Of Row As Seen By Jack, Luis

McAuliffe Satisfied the Bull Should Have Won

By JACK MAULIFFE, Retired Undeclared Lightweight Champion

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Right off the bat I might admit that I turned out to be wrong in picking Luis Firpo to win the heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey.

I was wrong, however, by just one punch and I came on close to being right that I think my opinion expressed before the fight was vindicated.

Dempsy was saved by what looked to have been one of the worst breaks against him. Had he not been knocked clear out of the ring into the press box in the first round I am sure he would have been knocked out.

He was helpless on the ropes with his guard down and his knees sagging. He stepped forward and Firpo caught him coming in with a lashing right to the jaw.

It is my opinion that Firpo would have won if he had behind him any good American seconds who could have advised what to do. They did not know what to tell him and he hasn't had enough experience to act by himself.

Firpo acted just like a veteran, he has been looking for it. He fought all the time. He came up fighting instead of covering up like a lot of the modern cake-eaters do. He fought bravely at the dictation of one of the greatest fighting hearts I have ever seen.

Once I believe the referee allowed Dempsy to remain too close to Firpo. The rules require a fighter on a knockdown to go to his corner on at least five paces away from his opponent, but once Dempsy cracked the South American before he had a chance to get himself in a fighting position.

Dempsy proved himself a great fighting machine and he also displayed a magnificent heart.

I do not believe that Dempsy knew what he was doing after the first punch of the fight, a right to the jaw that knocked him to the ground.

He fought through the whole round on instinct and it was proven that he didn't know what he was doing when he hit Firpo twice after the going rang.

After beating the Braves 9 to 1 in the first game, the Reds were shut out by Jim Barnes and lost the second 4 to 0.

Chatterbox Maggie came flying toward Mister Gallop's cabin, shouting like a horn with a bad cold—'Quick! Quick!' he shouted. 'You're needed, Mr. Gallop.'

Mister Gallop, Dave Deer's got his horns caught and can't get loose, and up, looking everywhere for Dave Deer. He never suspected that Chatterbox Maggie had told him and was looking at him at that very minute from a tree on the high cliff over his head.

Suddenly the air was filled with dust and stones all around him. 'Oh, there's something in my eye!' he cried. 'I'll have to get off my horse. I can't see a thing.'

And it took him 15 minutes to find it and get it out.

Just the 15 minutes that Mister Gallop and Nancy and Nak needed to reach Dave and to whistle away the branches that had caught his long horns!

When Mister Hunter Man reached the place, there wasn't a soul there. Just a lot of broken branches and some footprints all around.

'I wonder what all this means,' he remarked in a puzzled voice. 'I wonder if there was a deer here lately.'

Chatterbox Maggie was holding his sides, he was laughing so hard. He knew.

BERLIN BILL POST BUSINESS BUSTS

Signs Left on Pillars Lead Unwary Astray

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—Amusement lovers in Berlin, both natives and foreigners, have been literally running about in circles for the last few weeks, all because the municipal bill board business has gone broke.

Had the municipal department only openly admitted its failure, everything would have been all right, but nobody wants to face the fact for weeks.

Billboards in the capital consist of tall cylindrical columns at street intersections, and nowhere else is bill posting allowed. As a result, the pillars are centers of attraction to all sorts of people, especially those who invariably glean information from them instead of scrutinizing the announcements in the newspapers.

Recently a party of tourists saw a glaring poster of a ballet composed of girls in the most abbreviated costumes, and immediately called a taxi-cab, in which they were driven to a remote part of town, only to find the theater closed and a grocer operating in its place. Perplexed, they drove back to the pillar at a cost of many millions of marks, verified the address and taxied merrily back to the same place. They again returned and gave up their quest through sheer financial exhaustion.

Other persons who sought shows advertised on the pillars have been informed by janitors at the darkened theaters that the choruses and principals had gone to the seashore for the summer.

A number of communists, seeing flaming posters announcing a meeting on Sundays, fared forth to empty fields, while smokers have gone for cigarettes at advertised prices only to find them costing hundreds of marks more.

Investigation at length disclosed that the placards had not been

RAINS CUT COTTON YIELD AT CORPUS

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 15.—Rains which were general in practically all sections of Texas counts the last week, slowed down cotton gin receipts during the seven-day period. The receipts for the week were 5,400 bales, about a third of the previous week. The total for the season has now reached 82,543 bales, nearly 10,000 bales more than the previous high crop of the county.

REBUKED BY SISTER, GIRL TRIES TO DIE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Smarting under a reprimand administered by her sister in the presence of several boy friends, pretty, bobbed-haired Anna Schultz, 20 years old, attempted to commit suicide today by inhaling gas in the kitchen of her home.

Only the arrival of her uncle, Alexander Schultz, saved her from carrying out her plan. When Schultz reached the kitchen, Anna was prostrate on the floor of the room, almost unconscious from the fumes from an open gas jet.
